VACANCY: LECTURER
PRINTMAKING/FOUNDATIONS

Appointment date: August 2017. The School of Art + Design at Georgia State University in Atlanta, GA is currently seeking applicants for a Regular Full-time Lecturer.

POSITION DESCRIPTION (RESPONSIBILITIES/DUTIES)
We seek a candidate who is an outstanding artist and an enthusiastic educator, with a strong desire to enhance the program and to foster excellence in our students. The successful candidate should demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching and research. They must value working with diverse student populations and cultural perspectives in teaching and research.

RESPONSIBILITIES INCLUDE:
:: Four/four teaching load: teaching four courses each semester
:: teaching introductory and advanced printmaking courses; teaching foundations courses such as Drawing I, & 2D Design.
:: aid in managing and maintaining the Printmaking Studio/Laboratory and its equipment.
:: student instruction relating to all aspects of shop function, maintenance and safety.
:: participating in curriculum development
:: engaging in service to the school, college, university, community and/or profession.

QUALIFICATIONS
Competitive applicants should have:
:: MFA and significant professional experience in Printmaking, Drawing and Painting, or closely related discipline(s);
:: demonstrated depth of knowledge in at least two of the following: lithography, relief, screenprint, intaglio, monotype, book arts.
:: record of professional accomplishments;
:: excellent oral and written communication skills;
:: command of print methods and techniques relevant to the discipline.
:: ability to teach a broad range of printmaking and foundation level courses
:: college or university-level teaching experience

IDEAL QUALIFICATIONS:
The ideal candidate should have extensive knowledge of various traditional and innovative printmaking techniques and the ability to teach all beginning as well as some intermediate levels of Printmaking, Drawing and Painting undergraduate study. The model candidate will be familiar with the history of printmaking, as well as contemporary critical issues in the field with an understanding of related interdisciplinary practices. Preference will be given to candidates who have :: demonstrated depth of knowledge in a number of the following areas of printmaking: lithography, relief, screenprint, intaglio, monotype, book arts/papermaking as well as related digital processes.
:: demonstrated depth of knowledge in drawing and one or more of the following: water-based media, oil-based media, drawing/mixed-media five or more years of college or university-level teaching
:: service within academic, professional and community environments;
:: ability to teach a broad range of printmaking and foundation level courses
:: candidates should be well versed in the use of green/non-toxic printmaking methods and materials.
:: experience working with and sensitivity to the needs of a diverse urban student population.

Send cover letter; CV/résumé; teaching philosophy; names and contact information for 3 references; 20 examples of professional work, including an image list with explanatory notes; and 20 examples of student work, both in PDF format. Motion work should be limited to 5 minutes of total view time. Successful candidates will be required to provide 3 letters of reference and all academic transcripts upon hire. Email applications to Printmaking and Foundations Search Committee at wsadrecruiting@gsu.edu.

You may also send required materials to: Printmaking and Foundations Search Committee, Ernest G. Welch School of Art & Design, Georgia State University, 10 Peachtree Center Ave., SE, Atlanta, GA 30303.

Review of applications begins in spring 2017 and will remain open until filled. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification. The NASAD accredited GSU, Welch School of Art & Design offers graduate and undergraduate programs in Art Education; Art History; Drawing, Painting, and Printmaking; Graphic Design; Interior Design; Photography; Textiles; and 3D studies. Georgia State University is one of the Southeast’s major public research institutions and is located in downtown Atlanta.

Georgia State University is an EEO/AA employer.